STATEMENTS OF HERITAGE ATTRIBUTES

The David Whaley House is recommended for designation under Part IV of the Ontario Heritage Act as a property of cultural heritage value and interest containing the following heritage attributes:

Historical Attributes

The house at 7218 Reesor Road is believed to have been originally built c.1835 following the occupation of the property by the Crown to Thomas Whaley. The 200 acre property was soon divided between his sons Alexander born 1825 (west half) and David, born 1811 (east half). The 1853 and 1860 Maps of Markham shows David Whaley living on the property with a house in the location of the present dwelling and a sawmill and millpond in the location of the present day bridge. The Whaleys were a leading Cedar grove family and still living on the property at the time of the 1918 map of the area.

Architectural Attributes

It is believed that the Whaley House was originally built as a 1 ½ storey 3-bay Georgian frame cottage. At some point in the mid-20th Century, the house was extensively modified. While the basic form of the house remained, most of the original windows and openings were changed. A number of unusual windows with triangular transoms were added, along with a rear addition and new siding. The evidence which remains today to confirm the date of construction and original appearance of the house includes the architectural form of the front part of the house, partial fieldstone foundation and original floorboards.

Contextual Attributes

The David Whaley House is contextually significant as a reminder of the historic settlement pattern of the community of Cedar Grove and as one of the last reminders of a historic mill site which once existed on the property.

Significant Heritage Attributes

1. The Partial fieldstone foundation;
2. The overall building form.
